

Terms and Conditions of the "Free Gadget" Contest

1. The organizer of the contest is the administrator of the ChessStars website - Paweł Kabat with its registered office at Praska 47/2, 30-329 Kraków.
2. The contest is open to anyone who registers on the <https://chessstars.pl> and <https://chessstars.net> website and provides their chess.com username.
3. The Contest runs continuously until it ends (which will be announced by the organizer) or until the prize pool is exhausted.
4. Participants receive 1 point for each game won on chess.com.
5. A participant who collects 300 points receives the right to receive a free gift.
6. No points are awarded to players played at Bullet pace. Points are awarded only for games played at pace: Blitz, Rapid, Daily.
7. Each participant can only claim one free gift.
8. The organizer guarantees the availability of 80 gifts. If the prize pool is exhausted, the contest is terminated.
9. The organizer reserves the right to terminate the competition at any time or to extend it by adding more or different prizes.
10. Prizes cannot be exchanged for other prizes or cash equivalents.
11. The Organizer is not responsible for technical problems related to access to the chess.com website.
12. Participation in the competition is tantamount to acceptance of these regulations.
13. Any disputes arising from the implementation of the competition will be resolved by the organizer.
14. The decision made by the organizer in matters not described in these regulations, but concerning the contest and users, is final.
15. The Organizer reserves the right to amend the regulations at any time, with the proviso that these changes may not violate the rights acquired by the participants before their introduction.
16. All questions and comments regarding the contest should be sent to the following e-mail address: kontakt@chessstars.pl